Where was GOD when i needed him

you look and say

Where was I

Where is he

Where was GOD when I needed Him

Man where was YOU,

when I NEEDED you

I needed YOU to walk away from Delilah and you stayed

I needed YOU to throw that teddy bear away and you kept it

I had a bigger one, ready for you

And you claim to the sheep

“where was the lord when I needed Him”

Where was YOU? Mister

You think this paycheck come free without your heart?

You don’t think it takes two to tango

I have loved you says the lord

Yet you pretend and grieve me

You talk down on my name

when I Bred and Fed you

You bite the finger that feeds you

Yet you ask me? Where was I when you needed me

Where was you when I stayed home

Where was you when you’d go and cheat me like a prostitute

Where was you

When I had the feast and welcome waiting for you

Where was you huh?

You think this is a Game?

You think this the NBA?

You men choose to sit on the bench when I have given you will to score for the kingdom of heaven

You men transfer out of my team in favor of the opponents

Just to walk in again and be an imposter

There’s only one winning team

And every player is a Star player

I am your coach

Where was you?

When the game started 30 mins ago

Where was YOU when we were in the locker room discussing my plans for you in the game

Where was YOU,

when I was ready to give you the winning play

Yet you come in late

Yet you put on chains

Yet you want to believe the student is higher than his master

I am the LORD, your Coach who brought you to the finals game

I am the LORD,  your Coach

who strengthened you over your opponents

Yet you say where was God when I needed Him

The coach was always on time
